Reid Institute

John E. Reid and Associates invites all graduates of our training seminars to join the Reid Institute, our association of Reid trained investigators. The Reid Institute encourages members to further develop their investigative skills by attending quality-training programs from a variety of fields related to investigation. Reid Institute members can work towards Certification in the Reid Technique. Members that complete all of the training and testing requirements can add this important accomplishment to their investigative credentials. Membership in the Reid Institute is open to all government, law enforcement and private security investigators who share our commitment to learning and professionalism.

Reid Institute members receive discounts on many of our products. Visit www.reid.com for additional details.

College Credit

You can now receive college credit attending our 3-Day seminars on "The Reid Technique of Interviewing and Interrogation," and "The Reid Technique of Investigative Interviewing for Child Abuse Investigations." We have been recognized by Excelsior College to give one college credit to participants who successfully complete either of these seminars along with an examination.

You can contact our office at 1-800-255-5747 to arrange for the examination or go on-line to <http://www.reid.com/collegecredit.html>.

Upon successful completion of an examination you will receive one college credit for the course you completed. As with most college credits it is transferable to most other colleges. The cost for the examination and processing is only $35.

Anyone who has attended our programs since 1998 is eligible to take the college credit examination.
