

PHILIP A. MULLENIX is a Chicago lawyer who has participated in thousands of criminal interrogations, including homicide, corporate espionage, securities fraud, narcotics, theft and sabotage. He has trained hundreds of law enforcement and security personnel in behavior assessment interviewing, interrogation and counter-terrorism profiling. Mullenix is the author of numerous publications on behavior assessment interviewing, domestic terrorism and tactics for the interrogation of terrorist suspects.

During more than 25 years of law practice, Mullenix has adapted non-coercive interrogation techniques as a means of eliciting information within the forensic context of civil and criminal litigation. He maintains an active practice in the trial and appellate courts of the State of Illinois and in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois.

FORENSIC INTERVIEWING FOR ATTORNEYS

A One-Day Continuing Education Program

Offering attorneys a one-day continuing education program in advocacy which adapts non-coercive criminal interrogation methods to the elicitation of information within forensic settings of depositions, jury selection, direct/cross examination, and witness statements.

During 2009 this course was accredited by the MCLE Board of every state in which it was presented for 6 General CLE hours. This course may qualify for up to 6 hours toward annual CLE requirements during 2010 as well.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Prosecutors, defense attorneys, judges, military attorneys, inspectors general, arbitrators, civil litigators, and corporate counsel who participate in due diligence or human resource investigations.

TOPICS

Advanced behavior assessment interviewing techniques designed to elicit information in a non-coercive manner from adverse, hostile, or reluctant witnesses during formal statements, depositions and trial testimony.

Principles of verbal, vocal and nonverbal behavior symptom analysis to discern truth from deception.

Integration of statutory and common law guidelines, including rules of evidence and criminal/civil procedure, governing the forensic use of interrogation techniques within witness interviews, depositions and trial testimony.

TESTIMONIALS

"Best CLE course I've ever attended."

- Chicago, Illinois attorney

"Very interesting subject matter that's not often discussed among attorneys and the legal profession. These techniques can be used during depositions and examination of witnesses."

- Austin, Texas attorney

"Excellent course. Exactly what I wanted Reid training to be. I was not disappointed and would recommend this course to others"

- Washington, D.C. attorney

The John E. Reid & Associates' CLE PROGRAM "FORENSIC INTERVIEWING FOR ATTORNEYS"

offers to attorneys a continuing education program in advocacy which adapts non-coercive criminal interrogation methods for the elicitation of information within forensic settings of depositions, jury selection, direct/cross examination, and witness statements.

The methodologies taught within this program have been developed by lawyers who have also distinguished themselves as professional criminal interrogators.

John E. Reid was a lawyer who's innovative "Nine Steps of Criminal Interrogation" have not only become the industry standard among domestic and international law enforcement agencies but have also been favorably recognized by the U.S. Supreme Court in Missouri v. Seibert (2004). Fred E. Inbau, former Director of the Chicago Police Department Crime Laboratory and John Henry Wigmore Professor of Law at Northwestern University, was co-author of the seminal text "Criminal Interrogation and Confessions" which was similarly favorably recognized in Seibert. Paul D. Newey was an attorney, intelligence operative, and criminal investigator spanning the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency, Secret Service, Federal Bureau of Narcotics, and the Cook County States Attorney's Office. The instructor for this program, Philip A. Mullenix, is himself a practicing Chicago attorney who received his training in the trade-craft of interrogation from each of these accomplished lawyers.

The techniques taught within the Reid CLE course "Forensic Interviewing For Attorneys" are fundamentals of field interrogation which are used by America's intelligence community and law enforcement agencies. Those principles have now been integrated with rules of evidence, discovery, and trial practice for their forensic application by attorneys in the search for truth and justice.

Our challenge is to those lawyers who think beyond traditional boundaries. It is they who will benefit most from the methodologies taught within "Forensic Interviewing For Attorneys".
